How the level is set (fixed rule, applied in order; counts only, no prediction). A "restriction item" is a moratorium, zoning amendment or siting ordinance for the selected sectors (or for energy facilities generally). "Enactment" means adopted, extended or rescinded in our documents, or a Moratorium Nation record.

1. Active at the site: a pending restriction item, or an enactment in the last 12 months, at a government with land-use jurisdiction over the site (its city, village, township or town, or its county).
2. Active nearby: otherwise, 3 or more other governments within the radius with a pending restriction item or an enactment in the last 12 months.

3. Some nearby activity: otherwise, 1 or 2 such governments, or only earlier-stage items (discussion, drafting, hearings) in the last 12 months.
4. None recorded: nothing of the above in our data. Read together with the coverage section.

Who decides siting in Ohio

General information about state law as checked on Sep 29, 2026, not legal advice and not an assessment of this site. Thresholds, exemptions and pending legislation change; read the cited sources and consult counsel.

- Generating plants of 50 MW or more are “major utility facilities” and need a certificate from the Ohio Power Siting Board (OPSB) (ORC 4906.01). [R3]
- Wind farms of 5 to 50 MW (“economically significant wind farms”) also need an OPSB certificate; once a project is certificated, local agencies may not require their own approvals or permits for it (ORC 4906.13). [R4] [R5]
- County commissioners may designate “restricted areas” in unincorporated territory where economically significant wind farms and wind or solar facilities of 50 MW or more are prohibited (ORC 303.58, from SB 52). [R6]
- Within 90 days after the developer’s required public meeting, the county may prohibit such a project or shrink its area; voters can force a restricted-area resolution to a referendum (ORC 303.62, 303.59). [R7] [R8]
- The OPSB has taken jurisdiction over stand-alone battery storage of 50 MW or more (first approval in 2022); this is agency practice, as ORC 4906.01 does not name storage. [R9]
- HB 15 (effective Aug 14, 2025) set OPSB decision deadlines, including fast-track timelines under which some applications are deemed approved if the Board misses them. [R10]
- There is no state siting certificate for data centers; township, municipal or county zoning applies, and some townships have little or no zoning. [R11]
- On Aug 7, 2026 the Ohio Supreme Court ordered a village referendum on a data-center development agreement onto the ballot, so local data-center approvals can face a referendum. [R12]

Items are grouped per government, action and meeting date, so an agenda, packet and minutes describing the same step count once. Earlier-stage items are included in the item counts. [\[R1\]](#)

7. Upcoming meetings of the governing bodies

We hold no posted agenda or notice dated in the next 120 days for the site's governing bodies. Check the governments' own meeting pages listed in section 8. [\[R1\]](#) [\[S1\]](#) [\[S2\]](#) [\[S3\]](#)

9. Methodology, limits and disclaimer

What this is. A snapshot of what Siting Radar holds on Sep 29, 2026 about local moratoria and siting rules affecting data centers, battery storage (bess) near the site. Every factual line carries a citation to a stored public document (with page), a Moratorium Nation dataset row, a Census boundary or a monitored source; every quotation is checked, before delivery, to appear word for word in the text we stored for the cited page.

Governing jurisdictions are the governments whose Census TIGER/Line 2025 boundaries contain the site: the incorporated city or village if there is one, otherwise the township or town, plus the county. Boundary data are approximate at parcel scale; confirm the parcel's jurisdiction with the county auditor, assessor or GIS office.

Items are detected automatically in agendas, packets, minutes and legal notices by rules (and, where noted, a language model), then grouped per government, action and meeting date. Stage labels (discussion, hearing, adopted, ...) are the detector's reading of the text and can be wrong; the quotation and the cited page are the evidence. Items classified "other" (energy topics that are not a moratorium, zoning amendment, siting ordinance or project application) and items below the alert confidence threshold (0.5) are not shown. Items flagged wrong by our reviewers are removed. Matches below 0.7 confidence are labelled "lower-confidence match".

Dates are the meeting or document date an item refers to. For a codified ordinance, a packet or an ordinance book the date can be that of the document rather than of the vote; the cited page shows which.

Pending means a pre-vote stage whose meeting date is today or later. Governments often act at a meeting whose agenda is posted only days before; an empty pending list is not a guarantee.

Legal-notice text from statewide notice aggregators is not reproduced (their terms allow internal use only); we give our own one-line description and a link to the original notice.

Moratorium Nation records are third-party data, shown with attribution under CC BY 4.0 and matched to our registry by name, type and location.

Coverage. We monitor only governments whose agendas we found online; section 8 lists what we watch for the site's governments and how much of the radius is covered. Governments without an online agenda source can act without appearing here.

State siting. Depending on the state and the project, a state body (Ohio Power Siting Board [\[R21\]](#)) or state law can permit, certify or limit some projects and can limit or override local rules for them; section 2 summarises who decides siting in Ohio as of Sep 29, 2026. Whether local rules apply to a particular project is a legal question for counsel.

The activity level is the fixed rule shown in section 1 applied to the counts in this report. It is not a probability, a forecast of any vote, or an opinion about whether a project can be permitted.

Not legal advice. This report is information extracted from public documents and third-party data. It may be incomplete, out of date or wrong, and it does not interpret any ordinance. Read the cited sources, confirm with the local government, and consult counsel before relying on it.
